1. Introduction / Background

Ansah Delali Foundation (ADF), established in 2026, is a social impact initiative committed to empowering individuals through education, mentorship, skills development, and community-based support systems. While the foundation begins with a strong focus on students, particularly those in tertiary institutions, its long-term vision extends to supporting a wider population, including underserved and marginalized groups across different stages of life.

Based in Ghana, the foundation is dedicated to addressing gaps in access to educational support, career development opportunities, digital skills, and mental health resources, especially among students and individuals in underserved communities. In many developing contexts, including Ghana, access to these essential resources remains uneven, limiting the potential of many capable individuals.

The foundation is inspired by the lived experiences of its founder, Gabriel Ansah Delali, whose academic and personal journey has been shaped by the support of individuals, mentors, and organizations. Having benefited from such opportunities, he is driven by a strong commitment to give back to society and create pathways for others to succeed.

Why This Foundation Exists

Ansah Delali Foundation exists to extend the same support that shaped the founder's journey by creating opportunities for individuals who may not otherwise have access. The foundation seeks to build a cycle of empowerment where those who are supported today are inspired to support others in the future.

2. Founder Profile

Founder Profile – Gabriel Ansah Delali

Gabriel Ansah Delali is a master's student in Educational Leadership and Management and a Graduate Assistant with a strong passion for education, technology, and social impact. His academic journey is deeply rooted in a commitment to improving learning outcomes and creating opportunities for students, especially those from underserved backgrounds.

Professionally, he serves at the TUCSEE Institute of Counseling and Technology as a Deputy Head of Media and IT, where he oversees media representation for programs, including photography, videography, and managing social media pages. He also works as a Programmes Implementation

Manager, ensuring that projects and initiatives are well-planned, organized, and successfully executed. Beyond academia and administration, Gabriel is a creative, an event photographer. Driven by his own life experiences of being supported by others, Gabriel is passionate about giving back. His long-term vision is to become a professional educational technologist, bridging the gap between technology and education in rural communities where access remains limited. He believes strongly that “as time goes on, everyone will be fine”; a mindset that fuels his commitment to growth, resilience, and helping others rise.

3. Vision Statement

To create a society where every student, regardless of background, has access to the support, resources, and opportunities needed to succeed and give back to others.
